

The Eight Mastery Incense Aromas of Avesa & Cosmic Life Regression

All of these products are 100% pure, (no chemicals or artificial scents) and long lasting. We often only use a small portion of one stick for 5-10 minutes yet notice the benefit all day. They each stand-alone and we have discovered blends of aromas that enhance space and assist to hold higher frequencies in the home without being distracting.

Specific application to Avesa and CLR protocols and their assistance are noted in blue after each fragrance listed.

It is important to note that for most of the applications the purpose is not to “burn incense” when a client is present. The applications listed are for either before the client arrives or for after a session is completed. It is also helpful to support your sacred spaces as noted through the applications below.

OM Nag Champa: Whenever this is used it enhances meditation and creates a sacred atmosphere. Used in the morning it creates the environment that each day is a special event, and it in itself a prayer to the universe of appreciation. The burning in the morning stimulates a focus of energy for the space upon spirituality and meditation. The energy of the aroma will linger in your memory long after it has burnt out and continually replenish your surroundings with positive energy.

When used to purify your space prior to any Avesa practice the client will immediately respond to the energy of the room and it assists the healer to focus upon the client needs as it holds high frequency. Also enhances your ability to clearly interpret Ascended Numerology sequences when used with Nitiraj.

Nitiraj Original (Masala): Masala is a sacred spice mixture based upon the ancient Vedic texts of India and are made by blending several solid scented ingredients into a paste and then rolling that paste onto a bamboo core stick. Nitiraj original is made without any modern interference and is considered to be the first phase of Ayurveda and healing. It is known for its calming and purifying abilities and for assisting one to hold a high frequency without interfering with the purity of a connection.

Bar none the BEST aroma for maintaining high frequency energies. Suggested to either start each day or end each day, (or both), by burning for approx. 5-10 mins as a blessing to all space and a subtle frequency stabilizer. When used with the OM Nag Champa the heightened sense of intuitive connection assists with clarity for Quantum Clairvoyance, Ascended Numerology and all intuitive modalities.

FRANKINCENSE: This gift rapidly dispels negativity while enhancing spirituality, purity and consecration. The presence of this aroma also protects against dark energies, aids to deepen meditation and cosmic travel. It assists to add depth to psychic visions and offers courage. It is overall protection and an abundance attractor.

Frankincense is used in both oil and resin form as part of the CLR protocol and this extremely pure stick version is a gift to the person who has received the protocol to have at their home to anchor the energies of the protocol. It is also wonderful when used in a bedroom to add depth to dreamtime and soft support without interrupting space.

PATCHOULI: This stunning white flower, when burned as incense, is a strong manifesting energy of abundance and potent attractor energy for love, growth, mastery, sensuality and also to promote fertility.

Used as an oil as part of CLR this stick form is a compliment to the Frankincense and blends beautifully as it calls forth abundance. Use when you are called to ingite this energy in your home or office and to assist recipients of the CLR to anchor this aspect of their experience.

DRAGONS BLOOD: This is an ancient resin that quickly dispels negativity and clears space from any “transient” and non-benevolent supernatural entities. It also amplifies courage and purification as it attracts love. When used in combination with other incenses, dragon's blood enhances the properties of the total and is good to blend with just about any energy you may want to amplify.

This is an ancient purifier that literally enhances all other incense. We use it stand alone when significant emotional discharge has occurred in a healing space and to re-charge a room back to neutral quickly and without taking in any inadvertent energies from a client. Useful with all healing protocols.

ROSE: This is best used to increase courage, induce prophetic dreams, enhance fertility and healing. Rose incense is used in all forms of love based intentions and possesses the strongest love vibration of any incense. It is also particularly lovely for blessing new spaces or for holding vibration in a space between sessions.

When the energy of unconditional love is especially needed along with a sense of reassurance, add this to dragon's blood, nitiraj or combine with lavender and sandalwood. Simply hold the sticks of your choices in your hand, and “waft” lightly in the healing room or space with your intentions.

SANDALWOOD: Ancient and becoming more rare it is used to remove any negative energies, invoke beneficial connection with the cosmic realms, and enhance spiritual awareness. Sandalwood incense is also used for protection and healing rituals.

This is hard to acquire real sandalwood incense that is a powerful gift for Avesa balancing, Atlantean Healing Chamber and Quantum Clairvoyance sessions. The presence of sandalwood offers a “relaxing” effect to the consciousness that supports deep journey and ancient healing.

LAVENDER: A universal “relaxant” it will create the energy to promote rest and sleep, and to attract love. Also burned for cleansing, healing, overall happiness.

As described with this aroma and often used as an oil for personal application, the essence of lavender when introduced into a space offers a depth of joy that is tangible. It is also a wonderful combination incense for sandalwood and rose along with a welcome or familiar aromatherapy for all clients. This is a universal aroma that is beneficial with all modalities.
